

A Letter from the Directors

Dear Wico Campers, Staff, Parents and Alumnae,
Greetings from Wico! Is it really May?!? The office is busier than ever as we plan for Summer Number 102! We are excited to welcome our first-time and returning campers and staff to the shores of Newfound Lake in just few weeks (1st Sessioners) and in 2 months (2nd Sessioners).

Speaking of, we just completed our Annual Leadership Team Spring Planning Meeting. We spent the day planning, learning, bonding and having fun! We left our meeting feeling inspired, excited and grateful to have such a talented leadership team. We have included brief bios and photos of many of them in this newsletter. Check them out! We are specifically excited to welcome back members of our team from countries outside the United States. It has been terrific to reconnect with people who have been waiting to come to camp for 3 years—and there are several of them in this talented group!

In other news, after much thought, we are excited to announce the 2022 camper musicals! Drum roll, please... We know that our Lower Camp actors will have a blast performing in Jungle Book! Our Upper Camp performers can start prepping now for Newsies!! These are two of our favorite shows and we look forward to falling in love with them all over again at camp this summer!

Thank you to all of the campers and staff who have reached out over the last few months to say hello, share updates or check in. Your excitement is contagious and is the best reminder of the power of Wico! We know how much everyone is looking forward to enjoying the fun of camp. We feel the same way and are counting down the days! See you soon in 03241!

Lots of Wico Love,

Corey, Justin & Carly

Joking Around

WITH JESS

Hey Wico,

When we reach this time of year, things always seem to move in hyper speed. Camp starts to feel like it is right around the corner! In fact, before you know it, we will be up at camp, getting Wico ready to welcome our staff and campers. As I prepare for camp, one of the things I must do, just like all of you, is to pack! Of course, I have my camp t-shirts and shorts, sweatshirts, sneakers, and other essential items, but I always make sure to pack a few camp "essentials" of my own. Here are a few things I always make sure to have:

- 1 Crazy Creek Chair: Some of you may only use your Crazy Creek during the summer, but I have used it many times during the year as well. That being said, the most I use my Crazy Creek is at camp, so that is a must-pack item for me!
- 2 Sunglasses: Unless it is a rainy day, these will probably always be either on my face or perched on top of my head!
- 3 My Clipboard: An essential item to keep all of my schedules and other papers! Plus I enjoy decorating it with new fun stickers every summer.
- 4 A Summer Read: Although the camp library is stocked with more books than you can imagine, I like to start off my summer with one book from home. Once I finish that one, I can always check one out of the library!
- 5 My Summer Playlist: Every summer, I help create a playlist that serves as the Wico Summer Soundtrack. I wonder what the "song of the summer" will be this year?

Do you have any packing "essentials" that I may have missed? Or a song to add to our Summer Playlist? Send me an email: jess@campwicosuta.com and let me know! I absolutely cannot wait to see all of you under New Hampshire skies in just a few weeks.

Peace, Love, Wico, Jess

Dear Liz...

I cannot believe it is already May! We have been so busy hiring our Summer 2022 staff and getting everyone ready to arrive at Wico! It had been a blast talking to everyone who is working at Wico for the first time this summer!

We are back with, DEAR LIZ! Remember, if you have any questions about camp or anything else is on your mind, reach out! For this edition, I chose two emails I thought would be most helpful to everyone, especially as we get ready to come to camp!

Dear Liz, This is my first year at Wico? Is there anything I shouldn't forget to pack? From, Newbie Nellie

Hi Newbie Nellie, We are so excited to welcome you and so many 1st year campers and staff to Wico this summer! The camper and staff packing lists do a great job of listing the things you need for the summer. We have put a lot of thought and effort into making sure we have everything covered. One of the things I am looking forward to is themed dinners. Consider bringing a crazy hat and crazy socks for 2 of our special dinners. It is also fun to get silly at camp!

Dear Liz, I am so excited to get to camp. I already submitted my bunk requests. Can you tell me who is in my bunk? Sincerely, Eager Emily

Hi Eager Emily, We are so excited for your arrival! It is so soon! Thank you so much for filling out all your forms and for submitting your bunk requests. Bunk requests are optional, and still very helpful for us to have when campers have specific requests on their mind. One of the exciting parts of opening day is finding out your cabin and meeting your cabinmates. You will have to wait until then to know. Rest assured, we put lots of thought into these decisions.

As I promised in my last Dear Liz column, I will include a book recommendation in each edition of The Wicosutan! I recently started reading Babysitter's, Little Sister (the graphic novel). Does anyone else like these books? Please send me the names of books you are currently reading or bringing to camp, as well as any you would like us to purchase for Wicosuta's library!

Thanks for the questions, Wico! Remember to send future submissions to liz@campwicosuta.com. I look forward to seeing all of you soon!

Love, Liz

Alumnae Update

We are thrilled for Sarah D, a Wico alum, who was recently accepted to the honors program at the University of Wisconsin! Sarah has had lots of practice wearing the letter W and will continue that as she heads off to college this fall!

Parents Information Page

Dear Parents of 1st Time Wico Girls,

Welcome to Wico! We are looking forward to spending time with your daughter this summer! We know that you will have questions as you prepare your daughter for camp. Here is a list of Frequently Asked Questions and their answers that will be helpful for you and your daughter in the weeks leading up to camp!

Preparing Your Child for Camp

What can I say to my child if she is nervous about camp or fears that she will miss home?

Reminding your child of the following will help increase her confidence and excitement about camp:

- You (her parent) made a smart decision to send her to Wico. Wico is a safe and fun place to spend her summer with great directors and staff that you trust. Note: If you trust us, your daughter will trust & feel safe with us, too!
- You have confidence in your daughter and know that she will make plenty of friends, try new things, and have a blast!
- Her feelings are normal. Both first-time and returning campers often feel a little nervous before camp. Her nerves will dissipate quickly once she gets to camp and settles in.
- Everyone (including the counselors) misses home from time to time. Remind your daughter that should she miss home, you know she will get through it. Remind her of things she has overcome in the past. DO NOT TELL HER THAT YOU WILL COME PICK HER UP-- the unspoken message to your child is that they may not "make it" through the session. POSITIVE REINFORCEMENT WORKS BEST: 1) Remind her to think about what she is excited about, let her know that the counselors and campers at Wico care about her and will help her if she needs support, love, etc. AND remind her that CAMP IS FUN! Your daughter will take her cues from you—if you have faith in her, she will have faith in herself and that confidence will make a huge difference.

What can I tell my daughter about Arrival Day?

The first day is designed to help your daughter feel comfortable and happy at camp! When campers arrive, they are welcomed by their counselors and offered a snack (or lunch if they have not eaten). After checking in, they play name games and take a tour of camp. Beds in the cabins are pre-assigned and labeled with colorful name tags. Our counselors unpack for the campers and make their beds before they arrive, so that they feel at home quickly. At dinner, girls are introduced to our dining hall procedures and traditions including Wico singing and cheering! The whole camp participates in our opening night campfire during which each first time Wico girl lights a candle in the Wico "W." Afterwards, campers share an evening snack of homemade chocolate chip cookies and milk. Before bed-time each cabin shares their "Happies" of the day, plays get-to-know-you games and talks about what do expect the next day. Our head counselors, residential life coordinators and directors visit cabins to say goodnight.

What does the first full day of camp look like?

The first full day of camp (the day after Arrival Day) is a day spent doing activities with your bunkmates. Campers will have an opportunity to sample some of Wico's favorite activities, as well as visit either the pool or lake for a quick swim check, participate in team building games with their age group and have a bunk meeting to get to know their cabinmates even better while establishing some ground rules for each cabin community. This is a terrific day to get acquainted or reacquainted with Wico! The first traditional, full, program day is the second full day of camp.

How and when will my daughter know what bunk she is in? Does she meet her bunkmates in advance?

Our goal is to create the best bunk communities for all campers. We put tremendous thought and care into the process and honor as many requests as we can. We place new campers with a mixture of new and returning campers and those who share similar interests. Campers find out their bunk placements when they arrive at camp.

What about electronics?

Wicosuta is almost electronics-free. For girls who enjoy listening to music, we allow basic, music only, MP3 players to be used in the cabin only. Devices that access the internet are not allowed at camp. By extension, music players that play video must be cleared of all video before they are allowed at camp. Kindles, e-readers and Apple Watches are not allowed at camp, so please pack books for your daughter and let her know that she can exchange books with friends and/or borrow from the Wico library. *Please refer to the Parent Handbook for our complete electronics policy. As a reminder, any item that makes phone calls OR can access the internet is strictly prohibited at camp.

Have you read the Parent Handbook, yet?

You should! We encourage all parents to thoroughly read our complete parent handbook. In this document we share suggestions about writing letters to your child, outline our policies regarding communication, electronics and health care, as well as transportation to and from camp!

A NOTE ABOUT ELECTRONICS AT CAMP...

We know that many campers like music and that having access to it can be both enjoyable and helpful over the summer. Amazon is a good source for inexpensive MP3 players. We also recommend Mighty which is compatible with Spotify Premium, Amazon Music Unlimited and Amazon Prime Music (free to anyone with an Amazon Prime account). Families will need a subscription to one of these services in order to use Mighty. For more information about this device, use coupon code CampWicosuta10 when you check out for 10% off your order at:
